INTRODUCTION

The Koori Mail Indigenous Art Award 2021 is a new art prize for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander artists. The Award encourages entries from established, mid-career and emerging Indigenous artists from across the country working in any medium. It is a non-acquisitive award that is free to enter. It will take place at Lismore Regional Gallery scheduled for 4 December 2021 until the 30 January 2022.

Lismore Regional Gallery acknowledges the people of the Bundjalung nation, traditional custodians of the land on which we work.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

ENTRY

1. Koori Mail Indigenous Art Award 2021 is a visual art prize open to Australian and Torres Strait Island First Nations artists.
2. Artists may enter one work only.
3. If the artwork is a collaborative effort or community group piece, all artists must be acknowledged.
4. The Award is free to enter.
5. Completed works should not exceed 2 metres in any given dimension (including frame).
6. Multi-panel pieces are accepted and are regarded as one work. A work may consist of multiple parts but must not exceed overall size limits.
7. Artists selected for the exhibition will be paid $100 on receipt of an invoice.
8. Gallery staff are not eligible to enter the prize.
9. Artworks submitted must be the artist's original work.
10. Artworks must have been created since June 2019 and must not have been displayed previously at Lismore Regional Gallery.
11. The Award is open to any media and to 2 and 3-dimensional works.

PRESELECTION

12. A panel of judges will carefully select the finalist artworks from the high-resolution digital image (jpeg) provided by the artist or from a moving image file (in the case of video works).
13. The panel of judges will consist of art professionals and representatives from Indigenous art communities.
14. Entries for pre-selection are to be entered online or via a paper entry form.
15. It consists of:
  - a. A completed entry form.
